

"Today, I Met An Angel"

By Kimber Jenks

Today, I met an angel;
He stayed for just a blink.
And yet he caused my heart to race,
My thudding mind to think.

Today, I met an angel;
He lingered for a while.
But in those moments, I held him close -
He got me with his smile.

Today, I met an angel.
What color are his eyes?
The bluest blue, the deepest blue,
That shame the endless sky.

Today, I met an angel.
I held his little hand.
He smiled and told me silently
Who I am, and where I stand.

Today, I met an angel.
He tore down all my walls.
Now he builds a kingdom;
He's answered Heaven's calls.

Today, I met an angel.
Who gave me all of him.
But the more he gave, the more he had -
And now, for him, I'll live.

Today, I met an angel.
A sign I'm not alone.
Today, I met an angel
Who has come to guide me home.

Beck James Rippey 2007-2010
I love you, my angel baby.